Applicant believes these fees are not reasonable based upon the facts below and respectfully requests a refund. Specifically, Applicants request refund for:

- $ 790.00 Request for Continuing Application
- $ 980.00 Petition for Three Months Extension of Time
- $130.00 Petition Fee under 37 CFR § 1.17(h)
- $1900.00 Total loss to Applicant due to lost mail.

Remarks

Pursuant to 37 CFR § 1.181, a petition may be taken by the Director to invoke the supervisory authority of the Director in appropriate circumstances. Any such petition must contain a statement of the facts involved and the point or points to be reviewed and the action requested. . . Where facts are to be proven, proof in the form of affidavits or declarations (and exhibits, if any) must accompany the petition. Where the appropriate fee is required for a petition to the Director the appropriate section of this part will so indicate. The mere filing of a petition will not stay any period for reply that may be running against the application . . .

Pursuant to 37 CFR 1.182 All situations not provided for in the regulations of this part will be decided in accordance with the merits of each situation by or under the authority of the director. . . Any petition seeking a decision under this section must be accompanied by the petition fee set forth in § 1.17(h).

Statement of Facts

On June 2, 2004 the Office sent a final action to the Applicant (See Exhibit A of the Declaration of Michael W. Krenicky, Esq. submitted herewith (hereinafter "Krenicky Decl."). The final office action contained a shortened statutory period for reply within three (3) months from the mailing date of the final action. On August 2, 2004, Applicant sent via first class mail a response to the June 2, 2004 Office letter (See Exhibit B of Krenicky Decl.). Thus Applicant responded within two months from a final office action. The August 2, 2004 response included, among other things:

(1) The name of Applicant, i.e. Joseph H. Sklar; Serial No. of Application (09/612,055); Confirmation No. 6809; Art Unit: 3732; and Examiner's name, Melba N. Bumgarner;

(2) A mailing certificate dated August 2, 2004 stating " Mailing Certificate: I hereby certify that this correspondence is today being deposited with the U.S. Postal Service as First Class Mail in an envelope addressed to: Commissioner for Patents and Trademarks; Post Office Box 1450; Alexandria, VA 22313-1450." This certificate was signed by an employee of St. Onge Steward Johnston & Reens, Ms. Lisa A. Evensen.

The August 2, 2004 Response to Final (Exhibit B of Krenicky Decl.) was filed by first class mail within two (2) months of the June 2, 2004 Final Official Action. (Exhibit A of Krenicky Decl.).

Normally, under such timing during prosecution of a patent application, a Response will either be considered by the Examiner, or the Examiner will send an Advisory Action to the Applicant. Then, Applicant must decide whether to abandon, file an RCE, appeal, or otherwise.

On November 10, the Applicant's attorney telephoned the USPTO to inquire as to the status of the application and learned that the USPTO had no record of receiving the August 2, 2004 Response (Exhibit B of Krenicky Decl.). See Paragraph 6 of Krenicky Decl.

At that late date (close to December 2, 2004 where the application will go abandoned absent a response), the filing of a petition would not stay any period of reply running against the applicant; thus Applicant was compelled to file an RCE application, along with the requisite Extension of Time Request in order to ensure review of the August 2, 2004 response on the record. (See November 12, 2004 RCE Application and related documents, Exhibit C of Krenicky Decl.).

Exhibits C includes: 1) Request for Continued Examination (RCE) Transmittal; 2) Fee Transmittal; Preliminary Amendment Accompanying RCE; Petition for Time Extension sion (three months); Two Sheets of Drawings; Drawing Cover Page, and $1770.00 Check.

Request

Applicant requests a refund because August 2, 2004 Response (Exhibit B of Krenicky decl.) was mailed within TWO months of the June 2, 2004 Final Office Action (Exhibit A of Krenicky decl.). The certificate of mailing is in accordance with 37 CFR § 1.8 because it indicates that a response was mailed by first class mail prior to the expiration of the set period of reply, and was addressed to the Commissioner for Patents. Thus the August 2, 2004 submission was timely. Based upon the certificate of mailing indicating an August 2, 2004 mailing date, and the fact that the USPTO has not received this mailing, the application should be presumed lost in the mail. Such a delay is no fault of the Applicant. Moreover, the preliminary amendment accompanying the RCE and the August 2, 2004 Response are substantially identical. Compare Preliminary amendment of Exhibit C with Exhibit B of Krenicky decl. Accordingly, it is reasonable to consider the RCE filing (Exhibit C of Krenicky Decl.) as being a Response to Final filed within two months of mailing. Applicant urges such a determination and respectfully requests a refund of all fees incurred by the filing of the RCE application, extension of time, and this petition.

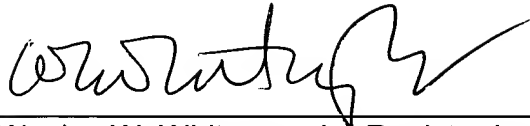

Accordingly, applicant requests a refund of $1900.00.

This is also a request to credit Deposit Account No. 19-4516 for this refund.

Applicant has enclosed the credit card authorization for petition fee of $130.00 under 37 C.F.R. §1.17(h). If there is any fee deficiency or overpayment, please charge or credit Account No 19-4516.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 14-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The new claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The specification does not describe the first and second ends of the shim body "being substantially planar and of substantially the same configuration in plan view, substantially the same size, and normal to the axis". The features of the location of the shim hole as claimed, the other surface is a flat surface, two substantially flat parallel surfaces, and end edges of one end are beveled have not been described. Also, "end edges" and "atraumatic bearing surfaces" are new terminology introduced.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Art Unit: 3732

4. Claims 14-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kim. The claims were considered as if the new matter limitations were not present. Kim discloses a ligament shim comprising a body having a first end and a second end, an axis extending from the first end to the second end, at least two surfaces extending from the first end to the second end and substantially parallel to the axis, at least one of the two surfaces being arc-shaped and a shim hole (figures 1,3). The arc-shaped surface extends outwardly from the axis. The two surfaces are arc-shaped surfaces and are opposed surfaces and extend inwardly toward each other. The surfaces comprise four surfaces including two arc-shaped surfaces and two outwardly rounded surfaces.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed February 17, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The new claims contain features that are new matter.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 3732

In the Specification

(Note: An amendment to the specification was submitted on October 22, 2003, causing page numbers to change from the originally filed application. Please amend the specification to add the following paragraphs to the pages as cited within the October 22, 2003 amended specification.)

On page 9, please add the following between the second and third full paragraphs:

Fig. 14a is a schematic illustration of a centerline shim having two opposing surfaces in the shape of an arc;

Fig. 14b is a schematic illustration of a shim having an outer surface in the shape of an arc;

Fig. 14a shows one embodiment of the present invention having two opposing surfaces in the shape of an arc. Shim body (36) is shown having a first end (60) and a second end (62), and an axis (64) extending from first end (60) through second end (64). First end (60) and second end (62) are shown as being substantially planar and of substantially the same configuration in plan view, substantially the same size and normal to the axis. First surface (66) and second surface (68) extend from first end (60) to second end (62) substantially parallel to axis (64). First surface (66) and second surface (68) are arc shaped. Shim hole (39) extends from first surface (66) to second surface (68). Apart from shim hole (39), the shim is devoid of any further opening. Wall (70) is also shown extending from first surface (66) to second surface (68). Second wall (71) is also shown extending from first surface (66) to second surface (68) parallel to wall (70). Optionally wall (70) may be rounded. Shim hole (39) extends from a crest of first arc-shaped surface (66) to a mid-arc portion of second arc-shaped surface (68).

Fig. 14b shows another embodiment of the present invention similar to that shown in Fig. 11. Shim body (72) is shown having a first end (74) and a second end (76), and an axis (78) extending from first end (74) through second end (76). First end (74) and second end (76) are shown as being substantially planar and of substantially the same configuration in plan view, substantially the same size and normal to the axis. First surface (80) and second surface (82) extend from first end (74) to second end (76) substantially parallel to axis (78). First surface (80) is arc shaped. Second surface (82) is substantially flat. Shim hole (39) extends from first surface (80) to second surface (82). Apart from shim hole (39), the shim is devoid of any further opening.

In the Claims

Claims 1-13 (cancelled)

a body having a first end and a second end, and an axis extending from the first end to the second end;

the first and second ends being substantially planar and of substantially the same configuration in plan view, substantially the same size, and normal to the axis;

at least two surfaces extending from the first end to the second end and substantially parallel to the axis;

at least one of the two surfaces being arc-shaped; and a shim hole extending from the arc-shaped surface to the other of said two surfaces, said body being otherwise devoid of any further opening.

Claim 15 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 14 wherein said one arc-shaped surface extends outwardly from the axis.

Claim 16 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 15 wherein the other of said at least one of surfaces being arc-shaped is a flat surface.

Claim 17 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 16 wherein said shim hole extends from a crest of said one arc-shaped surface to the other of said two surfaces.

Claim 18 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 14 wherein said two surfaces are arc-shaped surfaces and are opposed surfaces and extend inwardly toward each other.

Claim 19 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 18 wherein said shim hole extends from a first of said arc-shaped surfaces to a second of said arc-shaped surfaces.

Claim 20 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 14 wherein said two surfaces are arc-shaped and opposed to each other, a first of the arc-shaped surfaces extending outwardly from the axis and a second of the arc-shaped surfaces extending inwardly toward the axis.

Claim 21 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 20 wherein said shim hole extends from a crest of the first arc-shaped surface to a mid-arc portion of the second arc-shaped surface.

Claim 23 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 14 wherein said at least two surfaces extending from the first end to the second end comprise four surfaces including two arc-shaped surfaces and two outwardly rounded surfaces.

Claims 24 & 25 (cancelled)

Remarks

Claims 9-25 are pending in this application prior to entry of the above-amendments. Claims 9-13, 24 and 25 have been cancelled by this amendment. Applicant urges that claims 14-23 are now in condition for allowance.

The present instrument relates to an orthotic device suitable for use as a ligament shim.

With respect to the Examiners objection to "end edges" and "atraumatic bearing surfaces", Applicant has cancelled claims 24 and 25, thus obviating the Examiners objections. However, Applicant submits that claims 14-23 are supported by the specification and urges reconsideration. Specifically, support in the specification can be found by reference to Figs. 11 and 14 which show two embodiments of the invention. One of ordinary skill in the art would understand by viewing Figs. 11 and 14, that the device shows first and second ends of the shim body being substantially planar and of substantially the same configuration in plan view, substantially the same size, and normal to an axis. Moreover, the location of the shim hole 39 is clearly depicted. Fig. 14 shows two substantially flat parallel surfaces. Ghost lines indicate that these flat walls or surfaces can be outwardly rounded.

Applicant has further amended the specification to clarify various embodiments and submits two explanatory drawings herewith. It is respectfully submitted that these features were disclosed in original Figs. 11 and 14, and no new matter has been added by this amendment to the specification.

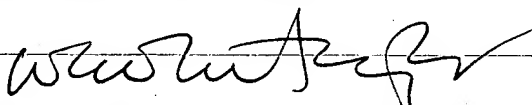

The Examiner has rejected claim 14 as anticipated by Kim. Applicant submits that independent claim 14 is not anticipated because the reference fails to teach or suggest all the claim limitations. Independent claim 14 requires, among other things, the first and second ends being substantially planar and of substantially the same configuration in plan view, substantially the same size, and normal to the axis. Claim 14 also requires a shim hole . . . [and] body being otherwise devoid of any further opening. Nowhere, does Kim disclose these limitations. Thus, claim 14 is not anticipated by Kim.

Finally, Kim does not make the claimed invention obvious. Kim relates generally to an anchor device not a shim, and describes, among other things, a bullet-like upper configuration tapered to a rounded tip. One of ordinary skill in the art would not be motivated by Kim to make a device having first and second ends being substantially planar and of substantially the same configuration in plan view, substantially the same size, and normal to the axis, and also having only one hole. Kim may just as likely have had a pointed end in the shape of an arrow, than ends of substantially the same configuration as required by the present invention.

It is respectfully submitted that new claims 14-23, all of the claims remaining in the application, are in order for allowance, and early notice to that effect is respectfully requested. If the Examiner has any questions about this communication he is invited to call Michael Krenicky at (203) 324-6155 to discuss.

Respectfully submitted,

PRELIMINARY AMENDMENT ACCOMPANYING RCE

This Preliminary Amendment is being filed in conjunction with a Request for Continued Examination and is in response to the outstanding Final Office Action mailed June 2, 2004. A Petition for Three Months Time Extension to respond to the outstanding Final Office Action is also included as well as a check covering the appropriate fees. Applicant believes that no further fee is due in connection with the filing of this Response. However, if any further fee is due please charge Deposit Account No. 19-4516. Finally, Applicant previously filed a Response to Final Official Action of June 2, 2004 within the shortened statutory period for reply on August 2, 2004, which appears to be lost in the mail. Accordingly, Applicant filed a first reply within TWO months of the mailing date of the final office action. Hence, Applicant is separately filing a petition requesting refund of all fees associated with this RCE filing, i.e. $1770 plus petition fee.

Mailing Certificate: I hereby certify that this correspondence is today being deposited with the U.S. Postal Service as First Class Mail in an envelope addressed to: Box RCE, Commissioner for Patents and Trademarks; Post Office Box 1450; Alexandria, VA 22313-1450.

In the Specification

(Note: An amendment to the specification was submitted on October 22, 2003, causing page numbers to change from the originally filed application. Please amend the specification to add the following paragraphs to the pages as cited within the October 22, 2003 amended specification.)

On page 9, please add the following between the second and third full paragraphs:

Fig. 14a is a schematic illustration of a centerline shim having two opposing surfaces in the shape of an arc;

Fig. 14b is a schematic illustration of a shim having an outer surface in the shape of an arc;

Fig. 14a shows one embodiment of the present invention having two opposing surfaces in the shape of an arc. Shim body (36) is shown having a first end (60) and a second end (62), and an axis (64) extending from first end (60) through second end (64). First end (60) and second end (62) are shown as being substantially planar and of substantially the same configuration in plan view, substantially the same size and normal to the axis. First surface (66) and second surface (68) extend from first end (60) to second end (62) substantially parallel to axis (64). First surface (66) and second surface (68) are arc shaped. Shim hole (39) extends from first surface (66) to second surface (68). Apart from shim hole (39), the shim is devoid of any further opening. Wall (70) is also shown extending from first surface (66) to second surface (68). Second wall (71) is also shown extending from first surface (66) to second surface (68) parallel to wall (70). Optionally wall (70) may be rounded. Shim hole (39) extends from a crest of first arc-shaped surface (66) to a mid-arc portion of second arc-shaped surface (68).

Fig. 14b shows another embodiment of the present invention similar to that shown in Fig. 11. Shim body (72) is shown having a first end (74) and a second end (76), and an axis (78) extending from first end (74) through second end (76). First end (74) and second end (76) are shown as being substantially planar and of substantially the same configuration in plan view, substantially the same size and normal to the axis. First surface (80) and second surface (82) extend from first end (74) to second end (76) substantially parallel to axis (78). First surface (80) is arc shaped. Second surface (82) is substantially flat. Shim hole (39) extends from first surface (80) to second surface (82). Apart from shim hole (39), the shim is devoid of any further opening.

Claim 14 (Previously presented): A ligament shim for insertion into a bone tunnel, the ligament shim comprising:

a body having a first end and a second end, and an axis extending from the first end to the second end;

the first and second ends being substantially planar and of substantially the same configuration in plan view, substantially the same size, and normal to the axis;

at least two surfaces extending from the first end to the second end and substantially parallel to the axis;

at least one of the two surfaces being arc-shaped; and a shim hole extending from the arc-shaped surface to the other of said two surfaces, said body being otherwise devoid of any further opening.

Claim 15 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 14 wherein said one arc-shaped surface extends outwardly from the axis.

Claim 16 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 15 wherein the other of said at least one of surfaces being arc-shaped is a flat surface.

Claim 17 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 16 wherein said shim hole extends from a crest of said one arc-shaped surface to the other of said two surfaces.

Claim 18 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 14 wherein said two surfaces are arc-shaped surfaces and are opposed surfaces and extend inwardly toward each other.

Claim 19 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 18 wherein said shim hole extends from a first of said arc-shaped surfaces to a second of said arc-shaped surfaces.

Claim 20 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 14 wherein said two surfaces are arc-shaped and opposed to each other, a first of the arc-shaped surfaces extending outwardly from the axis and a second of the arc-shaped surfaces extending inwardly toward the axis.

Claim 21 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 20 wherein said shim hole extends from a crest of the first arc-shaped surface to a mid-arc portion of the second arc-shaped surface.

Claim 22 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 14 wherein said at least two surfaces extending from the first end to the second end comprise four surfaces including two arc-shaped surfaces and two substantially flat parallel surfaces.

Claim 23 (Previously presented): The ligament shim in accordance with claim 14 wherein said at least two surfaces extending from the first end to the second end comprise four surfaces including two arc-shaped surfaces and two outwardly rounded surfaces.

Claims 24 & 25 (cancelled)

Remarks

Claims 9-25 are pending in this application prior to entry of the above-amendments. Claims 9-13, 24 and 25 have been cancelled by this amendment. Applicant urges that claims 14-23 are now in condition for allowance.

The present instrument relates to an orthotic device suitable for use as a ligament shim.

With respect to the Examiners objection to "end edges" and "atraumatic bearing surfaces", Applicant has cancelled claims 24 and 25, thus obviating the Examiners objections. However, Applicant submits that claims 14-23 are supported by the specification and urges reconsideration. Specifically, support in the specification can be found by reference to Figs. 11 and 14 which show two embodiments of the invention. One of ordinary skill in the art would understand by viewing Figs. 11 and 14, that the device shows first and second ends of the shim body being substantially planar and of substantially the same configuration in plan view, substantially the same size, and normal to an axis. Moreover, the location of the shim hole 39 is clearly depicted. Fig. 14 shows two substantially flat parallel surfaces. Ghost lines indicate that these flat walls or surfaces can be outwardly rounded.

Applicant has further amended the specification to clarify various embodiments and submits two explanatory drawings herewith. It is respectfully submitted that these features were disclosed in original Figs. 11 and 14, and no new matter has been added by this amendment to the specification.

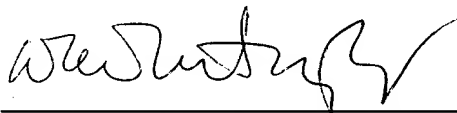

The Examiner has rejected claim 14 as anticipated by Kim. Applicant submits that independent claim 14 is not anticipated because the reference fails to teach or suggest all the claim limitations. Independent claim 14 requires, among other things, the first and second ends being substantially planar and of substantially the same configuration in plan view, substantially the same size, and normal to the axis. Claim 14 also requires a shim hole . . . [and] body being otherwise devoid of any further opening. Nowhere, does Kim disclose these limitations. Thus, claim 14 is not anticipated by Kim.

Finally, Kim does not make the claimed invention obvious. Kim relates generally to an anchor device not a shim, and describes, among other things, a bullet-like upper configuration tapered to a rounded tip. One of ordinary skill in the art would not be motivated by Kim to make a device having first and second ends being substantially planar and of substantially the same configuration in plan view, substantially the same size, and normal to the axis, and also having only one hole. Kim may just as likely have had a pointed end in the shape of an arrow, than ends of substantially the same configuration as required by the present invention.

It is respectfully submitted that new claims 14-23, all of the claims remaining in the application, are in order for allowance, and early notice to that effect is respectfully requested. If the Examiner has any questions about this communication he is invited to call Michael Krenicky at (203) 324-6155 to discuss.

Respectfully submitted,
